

In this exhilarating song, Annamaiah describes the abode of Venkateswara on the Tirupati Hill.
He further says that the divine experience on that holiest place bestows salvation to one and all.
Look there. It is the abode of Sri Hari. It is the spectacle of ten thousand hoods of a Sesha serpent.

1. That is the topmost Venkatachalam. That is the most favorite of Brahma and other gods. That is the eternal abode of all sages. See that, bow, it is all bliss.

2. There is Seshachalam nearby. It is the abode of gods in the sky. In its front, see the treasure of golden towers of Brahman the supreme consciousness

3. That is the place for salvation. That is the hill of Venkatesa. That is the embodiment of wealth.
That is the holiest of the holy.
