

Annamaiah in this song implores himself to unify thought and action while praying God. He says that Govinda with different names, namely Hari, Vishnu, Achyuta, and Venkatesa is omnipresent and omnipotent and wants his heart to surrender to Him.

In thought and action chant "Govinda," oh my heart.

1.All gods are the incarnations of Hari. The entire Universe is in Hari. All the mantras (incantations) are in the names of Hari. Chant "Hari, Hari, Hari," oh my heart.

2.All the happenings are miracles of Vishnu. All the Vedas praise Vishnu. Vishnu alone is the soul of the universe. Search for Vishnu everywhere, oh my heart.

3.He is Achyuta, the detached. He is the primeval and He is the ultimate. He is the destroyer of demons. Achyuta resides on Sree Venkatadri. Surrender to Achyuta, oh my heart.
