

Annamaiah beautifully describes Alamelumanga's graceful gestures showing her love for her lord Venkatapati. 'Srungara rasa' is the mood of the song.

Admiration and adulation to Mother Alamelumanga.

Praise be to her sweet lips.

1. Her gestures are charming and her looks are enchanting. Her taunting words and moody gestures to her beloved husband are delightful.

Praise be to her.

2. She stood by her husband with a lute in her hand gracefully. While she was leaning on her husband her bosom was glistening. She was gorgeous with her slender waist. Praise be to her.

3. Pearl necklaces are shining on her chest. She is fragrant with sandalwood perfume. She held her dear husband Venkatapati in her arms. It is in deed a feast for her Lord. Praise be to her