

Annamaiah, in this song, describes the glory of Govinda in different incarnations. He describes his beauty and qualities.

Oh Govinda, the Gokulam prays for protection.
You are very holy. Victory to you the embodiment of supreme bliss.

1. The world admires your charm. You've thousand names. You are the abode of virtues and your names are chanted. You are sky blue. You are frightful to your enemies. You are the moon of the ocean-like Raghu dynasty.

2. Garuda bird is your vehicle. You are the charioteer holding the reins of horses. You lifted Siva's bow.
You recline on Sesha serpent. You are ever merciful. You are with your consort Kamala. You are the excellent lord of Venkatagiri. You're Ranga.
