

In this song, Annamaiah states that Sri Venkatesa is the Supreme Lord giving various instances wherein His devotees like Gajendra, Draupadi, and many sages were rescued.

He is the Supreme Lord. He is Venkatesa. His eyes are like petals of a white lotus flower.

1. He is the treasure of knowledge to all the great sages and the wealth of Indra and others. He is the embracing lover of gopikas and the bestower of prosperity.

2. He is Yashoda's precious gem. He is the rescuer of Gajendra in danger and the protector of Draupadi in distress. Sri Venkatesa is all-pervading.

3. The penance of sages yielded auspicious results. He is the primordial of the trinity (Brahma, Vishnu, Maheshwara). Sri Venkatesa shines brilliantly with his consort Alamelumanga.
