

Annamaiah decries the foolishness of the people who serve others for the sake of paltry worldly benefits instead of serving the all-merciful and beautiful God Venkatesa.

Born as human being, and serving other men,
why should anyone fill his life with sorrow?

1. Just to feed one's stomach, man enters abhorable places. He begs for a bowl of food.
His mind is always after sensual pleasures and he does not get rid of shallow attachments.

2. He moves among us in various forms. Pray the beautiful lord of Venkatadri and reach the topmost position.
