

In this interesting folk song, Alamelumanga describes all the ten Avatars to her friend addressing her as little sister. This song is full of colloquial Telugu vocabulary devoid of Samskrut words.

O little sister, look at the child with sparkling smiles. Look, how fearless he is.

1.O little sister, he appeared with scales on body (Vishnu's Matsyavataram). He appeared with very tough back (Koorma). He appeared with lifted mouth (Varaha). He descended on the earth with strong and crooked teeth (as man-lion).

2.He took the form of a short man (Vamana). He carried axe on his shoulder (Parasurama). He tilled land with plough (Balarama). He hunted a deer in forest but lost his woman (Rama).

3.He became a great flute player. His looks resembled the looks of a deer (Krishna). O little sister, look, he is Venkatesa eagerly meeting beautiful Alamelumanga in Kaliyuga.
