

Which is inside and which is outside for the one who is the source of light? Where is birth for the one who is eternal?

1. Where is the need for the omniscient God to move from place to place? Where is the abode for the one who is free from all the effects of karma? Where the one who bears the earth should put his foot? What can be the state of existence for the one worshiped by Parvati?

2. Where is beginning and where is the middle for the almighty? Where are sides to the one who has a thousand faces? What will He speak to the sage who always has the lord in his heart? What will the embodiment of knowledge see or listen to?

3. Where is the difference of self and stranger for the supreme yogi? What is censure and what is praise for the one who is sinless? Where is the idol for the divine Venkatesa and who can comprehend

Narayana's glory?